Claims 1-2, 7-11 and 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freiberg et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,538,961).

Freiberg et al disclose closely analogous compounds useful for stimulating contractile motion of the gastrointestinal tract. The only difference between the claimed compounds and the prior art compounds is at the 13-position i.e. the claimed compounds contain a propyl group at the 13-position while the reference's compounds contain an ethyl group at the 13-position. However, since propyl is a next higher homologue of ethyl, a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the instant invention was made would have been motivated to substitute propyl for ethyl at the 13-position on compounds disclosed by Freiberg et al because such a person would have expected to resulting compounds to possess similar activity in stimulating contractile motion of the gastrointestinal tract.

Applicant's arguments filed April 1, 2003 have been considered but have not been found persuasive. The declaration presents data comparing the activity of the claimed compounds with the activity of erythromycin. The data has not been found persuasive because the comparison has not been made with the closest prior art compound disclosed by Freiberg et al.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
